FIELD DAY.

THE PROSPECTS MOST ENCOURAGING.

THE PROGRAM AS ARRANGED.

The Executive committee of the Athletic Association has gone to work with a will, and already the outlook for Field day is most promising. In the language of one of the committeemen "it will be a most blooming success, much superior to what has ever been in this institution"—and that is saying a great deal for it. More interest is being manifested on all sides, the participants will be in better condition and the prizes more seductive. Among the new features to be introduced here on that day will be an exhibition by the gymnasium team, of which Cadet B. L. Scott is captain by right of ability and by appointment of the committee. The improved condition of our campus will give this year still another decided advantage over previous years. Through the energy of the Executive Committee, many merchants in town and in Opelika have decided to offer one or more prizes. At least ten gold medals will be awarded as first prizes besides numerous other things for even second and third prizes. All that is now needed is the hearty co-operation of every one in college. The Executive Committee is doing its duty; now, do yours. The Athletic association now has about seventy-five members. It should have twice that number. Have your name enrolled on the list of members, and help on the good work. If you need any information call on the committee, any member of which will gladly submit to being pumped, if your intention is good.

The following is the program for Field day as posted on the bulletin board:

- * 100 yard dash.
- * 140 " hurdle race.
- * 440 " 1-4 mile run.
- * Standing broad jump.
- * Running " "
- * Standing high " "
- * Running " "
- * Putting the shot
- * Throwing the hammer
- * Pole vault.
- High kick.
- Hand vault.
- Throwing base ball.
- Sack race.
- Egg race.

Shoe race.

Three-legged race.

Potato race.

Tug of war—Senior vs. Junior.

SOPHOMORE DECLAMATION.

On last Wednesday candidates for the first day of May honors in the Sophomore class declaimed before the faculty. The following appointments have been published:

Clark, P. G.,	Conner, T. G.,
Hobdy,	Kyser,
McBryde,	Paden,
Pollard,	Slaton,
	Webb.

We congratulate the cadets on their success in "getting on," and predict for them a successful celebration.

BASE BALL.

WHAT THE OUTLOOK FOR A GOOD TEAM IS.

Every other afternoon the campus is alive with players. Almost every body plays base ball in some degree and almost every body enjoys watching a good play, so all are now given an opportunity of satisfying their special propensities on and around the base ball field. There is no lack of good players in college and not a few very good ones. No one seeing the usual practice doubts the possibility of having a splendid team in the field to represent the college in a few championship games this season. This early it seems that we are safe in naming the following for places on the team: Harry Smith, 1st base; Billy Williams, 2nd base; Reynolds Tichenor, short stop; and probably John Arrington, 3rd base. With these men on the infield our chance for success is at once apparent.

But it is not yet sure that even these can make the team over opposing candidates. Every one wanting any place on the team will have "to hustle" for it. The pitching will doubtlessly be done by Christian or Jones, both of whom show good material. The only question is will the faculty permit us to play any games? Let us live and work in hope that they will.

Y. M. C. A.

The traveling secretary of the student's Volunteer movement of the young men's christian associations of the U. S. spent the 23rd, 24th, and 25th, of last month in Auburn. He made two interesting talks on the student Volunteer movement one before the Y. M. C. A. at its regular Sunday afternoon meeting and one before the general public on Sunday night, both in the Presbyterian church. Before leaving he organized a missionary committee and a class for the study of missions. It may be interesting to our readers to know that he himself is a Volunteer as is Mr. Brockman whom we all remember with such pleasant feelings. From here Mr. Luce went to the University of Ga., at Athens.

In the opinion of the Hon. Chas. H. Dabney Jr., Pres. of the University of Tennessee at Knoxville and assistant Commissioner of Agriculture of the U. S., the veterinary department of this institution is the best in the South. Pres. Dabney is now on a tour visiting the agricultural colleges and experiment stations of the U. S., in the work of the department of Agriculture. His observations here gave him a most favorable impression of our work and he did not leave before complimenting us in the very highest terms on the efficiency and worth of every department in which he was interested as well as of the others.

The Chopin—Abt evening at Mrs. Boyds was declared by those present a grand success.

W. W. Moore, assistant in wood work, and our efficient business manager, left on Sunday evening for Columbia, Tenn., where he goes to fill a position in the electric light plant. Will has a leave of absence for one month, during which time he has the position on trial. If satisfactory he will continue permanently; if not, he will return to college at the end of the month. He has our best wishes. For the present, the work of the business manager will be in charge of the editor-in-chief.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A., on last Sunday evening, though not so well attended, was unusually interesting, and, let us hope, profitable. Prof. Thach in his usually attractive manner led, his subject being, in general language, "The Details of Life." Though an informal talk, it was splendid, full of suggestions and direct application in every life, especially the student's. Those who were not present missed a rare treat.

Mr. Miller of Wilmington N. C. paid his A T O friends here a short visit last week.

Dr. C. D. Woods, Chemist of the Storrs Agricultural Experiment station, Connecticut, was in the city week before last.

Mr. Felton Wimberly visited his parents in the city last Saturday.

Mrs. Frazer left the city last Friday for Talassee and Montgomery where she goes to give readings.

WEBSTERIAN NOTES.

March 2nd. As this meeting was to be held soon after monthly examinations and as the time for preparation of speeches would therefore be limited the society decided to have a mock trial rather than a debate.

A cadet was tried for the murder of a prominent citizen of Auburn.

King C. and Pollard represented the State while Moulder and Hare were counsels for the defense. The witnesses for the prosecution were P. Vines and H. Hertzfield whose testimony was somewhat conflicting and led the jury to suspicion that one of the witnesses was guilty of the crime, McGehee and Gonce were witnesses for the defendant. Their testimony was corroborative and weighed heavily on the minds of the jury. The lawyers and witnesses having thus been secured a jury was impaneled to try the case. They were: Alford, Boland, Beeson, W. B. Hertzfield, J. and Ayers. The jury listened attentively to the argument and were requested to retire and make up their verdict. After a short consultation among themselves the jury returned the following verdict: "We the jury find the defendant not guilty but recommend that P. Vines be hung at once." The celebrated trial having thus ended the society adjourned.

On the nights of the 9th and 16th no meetings were held on account of examinations.

March 23. The society was presided over by Beeson. The following subject was ably discussed: Resolved that Hope influences mankind more than does Fear. Boland opened the debate and made some good points. Gonce followed with "Uncle Sam's Goose tale," which he humorously applied to the affirmative side. Alford, Hertzfield J., King C., Moulder and Webb made talks on the affirmative side, while King G., Hertzfield H., McGehee and Vines spoke for the negative. The subject was closely contested, the decision being rendered in favor of the affirmative. On account of their efficient service the same officers of the society were re-elected. It was decided to elect speakers for commencement at the next meeting.

The Crimson White has been missed from our table of late.

Prof. C. H. Ross has an able and interesting article in the last number (February) of The Sewanee Review on "The Poetry of Wm. Watson."

Watch our campus while it puts on the garments of spring, and say where one more beautiful may be seen. But where will this loveliness be if we make paths through the grass plots? If there is one chord in your soul that responds to the touch of beauty, keep off the grass.

As a result of the disorder of the 3rd inst several cadets have been suspended for the rest of the session and many more given 50 demerits and deprived of the privilege of receiving any public honors at commencement. That these punishments show the wisdom of the President, all who are impartial and consider the matter from the broad platform of right, affirm. The college authorities are to be congratulated for the manner in which the affair has been dealt with. Their action illustrates to the fullest degree how justice may be satisfied and yet tempered with mercy. In punishing as they have done they could not have been milder and yet it does not appear that they have been one whit too mild. Let us all rejoice that such a happy termination has been found to what seemed at one time such an "ugly sore to heal." It now behooves every thinking student to do his best in maintaining the law and making the present term a good one in every respect. Let every body join in the good work.

"Boys will be boys" is an expression that has been used upon any and all occasions in excuse for the mischievous action of the youths of our land. We recognize the justice of the expression when used in connection with acts of innocent mischief, but we cannot lose sight of the fact that there are boys who are gentlemen and boys who are not. There is always a limit beyond which our conduct should not go, whether in a spirit of fun or of mischief or otherwise. The gentleman recognizes this limit and is careful that he does not cross it even for the gratification of what some might consider innocent mirth. As an instance of this limit we should call the attention of the students to a fact that has of late come under our observation. It has been customary it seems for a few to make report of any and all visitors coming to our town calling "rat" after them or speaking in stage whispers of them in a jeering disrespectful manner. Now all such conduct is ungentlemanly in the extreme and shows a want of thought to say the least of it. We are sure that none of the students here would deliberately do anything beneath the dignity of gentlemen. A few behave thus disrespectfully simply because they have never thought how rude it is, nor what an impression it makes. If they will just place themselves in the position of the visitor and look at such conduct from that standpoint, they will be careful in the future to avoid being guilty of it. We may have as much fun as we please but just when that fun causes others unpleasantness and brings into disrepute it should be abandoned; then we have reached a limit beyond which we may not go without forfeiting our right of being called gentlemen. We trust that all will see the justice of our remarks and use their influence to put down such disrespectful conduct. Boys let us be men and not babies nor toughs!

THE ORANGE AND BLUE.

THE AUBURN BOYS ISSUE A GOSSIPY BI-MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

The Journal has received volume one, number ten of the Orange and Blue, a neatly printed four column paper, well filled with bright bits of college news, published by the Wirt and Websterian literary societies bi-monthly, at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, at Auburn.

The paper is well edited, and the young men deserve good credit not only for the clever, gossipy manner the paper is gotten out, but for its admirable tone and temper. By the way, the Journal is glad to see in its columns that Secretary of the Navy Herbert will deliver the commencement address this year, and that arrangements are already being made to make the commencement an unusually brilliant one.—Montgomery Journal.

FOOT-BALL.

Harvard's Faculty has expressed its opinion that intercollegiate foot ball contests should not be engaged in by the students. It has passed no law prohibiting any student from taking part in a contest but has voted that it would be well for the Athletic Committee to put a stop to such contests and it is generally conceded that the power of the Faculty to stop them will be exercised in case the Committee does not do so. So it seems that foot ball at Harvard will be, during the next season at least, a thing of the past.

This state of affairs at Harvard will not of course seriously affect foot ball in other Northern Institutions, only in so far as it will give an impetus to the reformation of the game and cause the omission of such games as Harvard would have played. But what ever other result Harvard's action may have, it plainly shows the increasing opposition to the game as now played and may end in the abolition of the game by many smaller institutions that pride themselves in following the lead of "Great Harvard" and there are not a few of this kind.

The contest will take place July 10th, Educational Day, at Talladega, Ala. Besides Auburn, Greensboro and Howard college have accepted the proposition and will be represented. A medal will be awarded as a prize and the expenses of the speakers will be paid. We understand that Greensboro and Howard have each already selected a speaker to represent them. Who will be the speaker from Auburn? He will be selected in some manner determined by the faculty. To be this speaker is an honor that every student in college who possesses one iota of literary ambition should covet. Great are the honors to be won on the diamond, on the gridiron, and on the field of athletics, but greater and much more desirable, those that this position offers. Prisoners! Prisoners!!

Oh, for an exchange of prisoners!

The occupation for a rest—under arrest.

Prof. R. E. Noble is visiting his home in Anniston.

Cadet Purifoy, went home on a short leave of absence Saturday.

Sam Noble—Prof. want you have a glass of soda?

Prof. Ben smiling—No sir, I thank you, I have graded the papers.

Question—Why has a certain young fellow such a bad cold? Answer—Because he has been sitting by the Branch too much. Why Will one be so imprudent?

Among the visitors to the college last week were the following ladies of Opelika: Mrs. Spinks and Misses Spinks, Condon, Faucett and Roberts.

Charles Howard of Columbus was in town last week. Charley is a rare duck and has many friends in Auburn.

Cadet Borup received a telegram last week informing him of his appointment to the West Point cadetship from the St. Louis Mo., district and left Auburn yesterday. Doan is in looks what many would like to be and will no doubt make a good West Pointer, if he is so fortunate as to pass his entrance examinations alright. Success to you Doan.

Cadet Nixon has returned after an extended leave of absence during which he attempted to pass the examinations for West Point. Failing in one branch, he was not successful and returned to college. He has shown himself a good student and while sympathizing with him in his failure, we are glad to see him back.

A Tennis club consisting of eight enthusiastic members has been organized. A schedule of games has been arranged to last until commencement, games to be played every Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon. The club has two courts on the campus and expects to develop great skill before the end of the session. The members are Col. J. H. Wills, Dr. George Petrie, Oliver Semmes, John Wills, Will Warren, C. N. Jones, Will McEwen and Doan Borup.

The musical Faculty of the Tuskegee female school, Alabama Conference College, will give a concert in Langdon Hall on next Friday evening. This will be the third annual concert of the kind given by this faculty complimentary to the lectures given by our faculty before their institution. We all remember the previous visits and will in consideration of our pleasure then, raise high our standard of enjoyment on next Friday evening. Mr. Gardner and Misses Wheeler and Slaton are the members of the faculty.

The first meeting of the College Glee club was held in the Wirt society hall Saturday night. It is simply a re-organization of the club formed before Christmas. Its object is to give one or perhaps two entertainments in the spring for the benefit of the foot ball finances. The nature of these entertainments has not as yet been positively decided but it will probably consist of minstrel and glee work supplemented by the assistance of several popular soprano and piano soloists. At the re-organization W. M. Riggs was re-elected manager and vocal director and B. B. Haralson director of the banjo-mandolin and guitar work.

Mrs. Mizell returned home last week from LaFayette where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Hudson.

The Presbyterians have erected a tablet in memory of their former pastor, Rev. C. A. Baker who died in 1893. The tablet is really a work of art.

Mayor T. P. Wimberly and wife have returned home from a trip to California.

Thursday night of last week the alarm of fire was raised in our little city. It was found that a building of Webb Mitchell was on fire. The whole, however, was completely destroyed before the fire relief could reach the scene. Still some valuable goods were rescued from the conflagration and the gallant firemen deserve loud praise for much heroic work. There may have been insurance, but the loss will be immense. To those in the city who did not know of the fire it afforded valuable opportunity for the study of astronomy. Dr. Broun explained the illumination of the clouds by the falling of meteors.

Corporal Milstead (To Clark)—“Let me have a pair of opera glasses please.”

Clark—“May I ask you what you are going to do with them in Auburn?”

C. M.—“Term examination, sir.” Most of us can see through this.

Uncle Billie Nunn, a well known and highly respected farmer who has been living about five miles south of the city, died Friday the 22nd, of March. At his death he was about eighty five years of age. He was one of the pioneer settlers of the state and is well known by everyone who is acquainted at all with the history of Lee county.

Cadets Drennen and Kelly are spending a short time at their home in Birmingham.

Miss Margaret Kinnier of Virginia who has been visiting relatives in Mobile, is again the guest of Miss Fannie Toomer.

The post-office is now permanently located in the new building under the management of the competent postmaster and his efficient and accommodating assistants everything is just as convenient as could be desired.

Weather Bureau. It rained last week. It also rained this week. Very probable it will rain next week.

Dr. Drake's horse's tail is again “straightened like meteors in the wind.”

J. O. Glesby (during examination in English to old reliable in rear) “Who in the doost wrote Grey's Elegy?”

First Cadet—“Whew! I smell old hides burning.”

Second Cadet (Engineering Course) —“Only one of General's fine Havannahs.”

Is it not funny to think that Sweetness is soon to become a Nuisance?

Mr. B. E. Branch of Montgomery, was recently up on a visit to friends and relatives in the city.

Miss Lula Bondurant is visiting Miss Mattie Henry in Montgomery.

Misses Bessie and Kate Broun gave a most delightful dining last Saturday week to the visiting young ladies, Misses Branch, Daly, Kinnier and also Misses Toomer, and Gachet. Considering the hostesses of course the occasion was very pleasant indeed.

The friends of Cadet Will Kline are glad to see him up from a severe spell of sickness.

Mr. Will Persons of the Alabama Midland railroad and Mrs. Frank Persons of Montgomery, were in the city last week visiting relatives.

We are glad to see Cadet Fred Nardin once more in college after his long spell of pneumonia. He arrived in town last Saturday week.

Mr. Duncan McDougald of Columbus, was in the city recently visiting friends.

Cadets John Arrington went home on a short furlough last week. Cadet Will Bussy visited Columbus.

Billie—“By Gadsey I believe he is about to get the nelson on me.”

Miss Fannie O'Brien returned to her home in Nashville last Thursday after a visit of several weeks to the family of Mrs. Lupton. Miss O'Brien, during her visit has made many good friends.

Miss Pauline Carter of Dalton, Ga. is visiting Miss Emily Kline.

The Freshmen class are learning the art of turning, and many are the laughs at their expense.

It is now Privates Peavey, Taylor &c., and Lt. & Adj. Kyser, and Act. Capt. McMillan.

Billy McEwin, alias Wandering Willie, is pre-eminently a left-handed pitcher.

The greatest place of amusement for the sight-seers in town is the end of the dummy line.

The chills of winter seem loath to leave us. This is beyond all doubt the most backward spring we have had in many years.

At 8 o'clock on Monday evening the 18th, Mrs. Frank H. Hill departed this life. She has been confined to her room almost a year and the sad intelligence of her death was no shock to her friends and relatives, yet when the cruel angel settles his cold clutches upon a beloved one, much pain and sorrow comes upon those who long ago knew that the end could not be averted. The funeral services were conducted by Dr. J. W. Rush, on Tuesday evening and on Wednesday morning the remains were removed to Salem for interment. Mrs Hill was a very highly respected lady and much loved by those who knew her. The sympathy of the whole community is with the husband and little daughter who are left to mourn her loss.

Prof. L. W. Wilkerson returned from Heidelberg, Germany, week before last. He reached Auburn Monday and spent three days among his friends here. Prof. Wilkerson expected to take a degree from Heidelberg University this year, but he returned in answer to a cablegram from Prof. Stubbs, of Audubon, Park, La., offering him a lucrative position as chemist in the Louisiana State College. He has gone to his work, but we may expect to see more of him in the near future.

The lecture by Prof. Stedman on "Corals and Coral Reefs," which was given on last Friday evening in the chapel, was highly enjoyed by all present. The subject itself is one of considerable interest, and, to say nothing of the professor's admirable treatment, was well illustrated by lantern slides.

Last Friday night at Thomas Hall, with Mr Borup as leader, the Imperial German club gave their second dance of the season. Friday at 1 p. m. a gloom was cast over the prospect of the coming occasion by several boys concluding that they did not wish to attend the German. They came to this decision even after they had made their engagements; but there happened to be other fellows who were delighted to fill the engagements thus unmercifully broken, and at 9 o'clock the hall was well filled with handsome young men and beautiful young ladies in beaming spirits over the much expected pleasure of the coming evening. At 9:30 the sweet strains of music, given by the Auburn string band, fell upon the ears of the happy throng and soon the dance begun. It was a beautiful scene—the bright and happy faces of polite and well dressed young men as they feasted on the exquisite loveliness of the queenly young women, and the graceful forms gliding around to the soft concord of sound. At 12 o'clock all seemed satisfied with the results of the evening and the dance was brought to a close. The next dance will be on the coming Friday night by the Auburn Cotillion club, when these pleasure seekers will again unite.
